Modesty in victory and an unconquerable spirit in defeat. These add up to good sportsmanship and love of competition. Although different in one sense, keeping faith is closely linked with honesty. Faith is much deeper because it is a belief in that which cannot be seen. Upon the love of one's fellow man, his parents, his country, and his God is based the depth of one's human relationships.

. . . Dedication . . . . . .

We, the members of the 1957-58 Quill Annual staff, wish respectfully to dedicate this book to our adviser, Miss Ruth Scott. The many students who have taken journalism under her know her tremendous capacity for friendship and understanding. She has helped many of her students get a start in the journalistic field; but more than that, all of her students learn to love the truth, which is the greatest gift of all.

Enid High students appreciate her faithful and efficient service as a teacher, a publications adviser, and director of publicity. Her originality, intelligence, and capacity for production have contributed immeasurably to the continued success of the Quill Annual, Quill Weekly, and other school publicity year after year.

These are tangible reasons and the weight of them is mighty. But the intangible reasons—the far reaching impression of a fine personality—weigh even more. This is why we wish to honor her.

JOHN CROMWELL, Editor

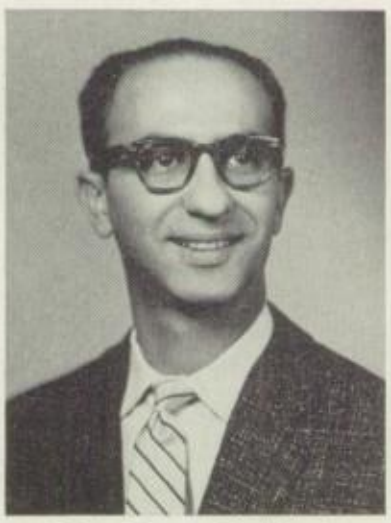
Administration and Classes

Supervising every facet of academic life is a fine example of teamwork among the members of the Enid Board of Education, administration and faculty. Students are directed toward useful and meaningful lives by their guidance. Certainly it is a big job and certainly it is well done.

Mr. DeWitt Waller, Superintendent
Mr. D. Bruce Selby, Principal

ENID BOARD OF EDUCATION

Mr. Raymond F. Hayes



Mr. Casey Cohlmia

Mrs. Edith Pinkerton

ADMINISTRATION

The Enid Board of Education, composed of seven members elected to serve without pay for four years, included R. F. Hayes, President, Mrs. James Wykoff, Mrs. Edith Pinkerton, Allie Paine, who replaced Al W. Braithwaite when he went abroad on business, Cleo Fisher, Ted Coldiron, and Casey Cohlmia. De Witt Waller, Superintednent of Schools, was their adviser and executive instrument.

The Board of Education was in charge of setting policies, hiring personnel, and general supervision of the entire school system. The school board decided what needed to be done, and Mr. Waller executed their instructions.

Among their other duties were included monthly meetings, which were supplemented by many special meetings during the year. New construction, remodeling and expansion of existing facilities, and the purchasing of supplies were principal items under consideration.

The new DeWitt Waller Junior High School was under construction, and it was hoped that it would be occupied by an expected enrollment of 500 by the second semester of 1958-59. The new building would handle a maximum 1200 students. It was expected to relieve crowded conditions at both Emerson and Longfellow Junior Highs and would necessitate rezoning the city.

The additions to Longfellow Junior High, which included nine classrooms, a band room, a choral room and a cafeteria, had been completed and were in use.

If financial circumstances permitted, expansion of Monroe, Coolidge, and Hoover grade schools was in the offing. Four classrooms would be added to each building.

All in all, the Board of Education operated quietly and efficiently, allowing students to attend Enid's modern schools without being aware of the people responsible for the smooth-running school system.

EMPLOYEE-EMPLOYER BANQUET

The annual Employer-Employee Banquet, staged by the D.E. and D.O. clubs, was held January 14, at the Youngblood Hotel.

Bob Sharp, D.O. president, gave the welcome address, and Otis Phillips, Enid businessman, gave the response. Tom Hayes, D.E. president, introduced all present, including special guests associated with the D.O. and D.E. programs, school board members, faculty, students and their employers. The guest speaker, Stewart Harral, director of public relations at the University of Oklahoma, was then introduced. The topic of his speech was the "Magic of Believing", which stressed the necessity of setting a high goal and then working to achieve it.

The banquet was given by the clubs with the desire to better relations among the faculty, students and employers.

Athletics

To encourage sportsmanship and fair play, to build competitive spirit, to develop the bodies of the players—this could well be the credo of the athletic department. The value of athletics to the student body—increased school spirit, pride and unity—is intangible.

FOOTBALL

The 1957 edition of the Enid Plainsmen Football team ran up the best record for an Enid team since the Mid-State Conference Co-Champs of 1952. The Big Blue's record this year was six wins five losses and they finished second in the Mid-State Conference behind State Champions Capitol Hill.

The Plainsmen were guided by their head mentor, Marvin Vandaveer. His assistants with the "A" team were line coach Jack Webb, end and "B" team coach Bill Brown, and Jim Stroup. A couple of new faces took over the newly formed Sophomore squad in the form of Norman Lamb, former Enid grad, and Sandy Newsom from Anthony, Kansas.

Three members of the 1957 Plainsmen squad gained outstanding recognition across the state. Heading the list was tackle Tim Crawley, who was chosen to the North squad of the All-State team. Sharing honors with him on the All-Mid-State Conference team were quarterback Bob Burdick and tackle Jim Maddox.

The first action found Enid with 11 returning lettermen on the field opposing the Midwest City Bombers. Enid took a quick 7-0 lead in the first quarter through the courtesy of Badgley's 11 yard scamper. The Bombers came back to score with 6:58 left in the half with Roger Cole doing the honors. Huffman's kick was short and Enid led 7-6. Final Score: Enid-7 Midwest City-6.

It was a rainy night when Blackwell came to town, and the leaky Enid line couldn't hold the Maroons back. Enid was operating without their starting quarterback Wayne Jones, injured in the Midwest City game. Former Enidian George Aiken led the Maroons to two touchdowns in the first half and one in the second as Enid failed to get started. Final Score: Blackwell-20 Enid-0.

Six thousand fans, the largest crowd ever to attend an Enid High football game, packed into Plainsmen Field to see the Big Blue take to the air for 150 yards in their first conference game against Shawnee. Burdick hit Bob Winfield on a jump pass for 45 yards and a touchdown to lead 6-0. With a little over three minutes left in the half, Bob Burdick went over from the one foot line on fourth down to give the Big Blue a 12-0 lead at the half. Final Score: Enid-12 Shawnee-0.

The Big Blue's second conference game came the following week at Oklahoma City against the Douglass Trojans, 1956 State Champions. The offensive battle saw Enid take a quick 6-0 lead in the first quarter and then in the second period score again to have a 13-0 half-edge. Enid came out after the half scoring quickly to lead 20-0, but the Trojans also came back to get their only counter in the third period making it 20-6, Enid. Final Score: Enid-26 Douglass-6.

The Big Blue got back into the win column the next week at Ponca City. Enid, although only scoring one touchdown on Burdick's quarterback sneak early in the ball game, completely controlled the game. Final Score: Enid-7 Ponca City-0.

Meeting N. W. Classen at Oklahoma City on Halloween night, the Big Blue took a quick 14-0 lead in the first quarter as a runaway seemed to be taking place, but the Knights got an easy TD as Felt fumbled a punt in the end zone and three Knights fell on it. But Enid came back to lead 21-7 at the half.

Early in the third quarter Enid continued the massacre as quarterback Burdick ran up the middle for 60 yards and another TD for Enid, leading now 28-7. Before anyone realized it, there was one minute and eleven sec-

El Reno's Indians came to Enid's homecoming the next week. The score read 0-0 at intermission. But former Enidian Jim Duckett haunted his old team as he led his band of Indians to a 19-7 lead in the final period. Final Score: El Reno-19 Enid-7.

The Lawton Wolverines went all the way on their first series and led the Plainsmen 7-0 with 2½ minutes gone in the game. They rang up only one more TD before the half but completely controlled the game as they led 14-0 at that point. Final Score: Lawton-33 Enid-0.

Enid's record stood 5-5 with the final game coming up with Perry, and the chance to have the best Enid High record since 1952. The Blue didn't have much trouble with the Maroons in the first half as Burdick and Badgley both scored, and Crowley's talented toe connected to give Enid a 14-0 edge at half time. On the second play of the fourth quarter Lloyd Terrill made a diving catch of a pass from Gregg to bring Perry within seven points. All-

BASKETBALL CHAMPS

Enid Christmas Tournament Champions, Northern State College Tournament Champions, Mid-State Conference Champions, number one in Class AA ratings, El Reno Regional Tournament Champions, runner-up in the State Tournament (by only one point), 23 wins and only five losses all season. What more could anyone say? This was the great record of the 1957-58 Enid High Basketball team, one of the greatest teams in the history of the school.

Members of Coach Jim Stroup's team who received All-State honors were Jim Maddox and Wayne Durham. Jerry Long, with Maddox and Durham, were placed on the All-Mid-State Conference team.

Their first win came at Ponca City as they downed the Wildcats 46-39. The next week at Duncan they were downed 25-23.

When they rolled over Blackwell here 38-30, they started a seven-game winning streak. In this streak they won the Enid Christmas Tournament and their first conference game as they downed the Northwest Classen Knights 45-40.

After stomping Capitol Hill 49-21 at Oklahoma City, the streak was ended at O.C. Douglass as the Trojans edged by them 45-42 in a conference game.

The Big Blue then went on an amazing eleven-game winning spree highlighted by a narrow 35-33 conference win at Northwest Classen, an all-important 73-48 win over Douglass here at convention hall, and

This streak was halted at Stillwater when the number one rated Class A Pioneers knocked off Enid 43-32. Enid closed the regular season by downing Duncan at convention hall 52-40.

The Plainsmen were almost knocked out of competition in the El Reno Regional Tournament, when they barely won over Ponca City 34-33. Ponca's Johnston had a one-and-one free throw after the game was over, but he missed the first shot as Enid won. The next night the Big Blue took the regional title by downing the hometown El Reno Indians 44-35.

Jim Maddox crammed through 19 points as Enid downed Duncan 49-27 in the first game of the State Tourney. The Plainsmen were knocked off their throne the next night as Tulsa Rogers upset them 42-41 in the finals.

Jim Maddox and Wayne Durham were named for the second straight year to the State Tournament team.

Jerry Long led the Plainsmen in scoring this year with 13.3 average. Wayne Durham averaged 11.7 and Jim Maddox was third with a 10.8 average.

In a special assembly held March 17 after Enid relinquished its crown, Principal D. Bruce Selby said, . . . "this is the greatest basketball team in the history of Enid High School."

Sanford "Sandy" Newsom, versatile in football, basketball, and track at Northwestern State Teachers College, Alva, with records still unsurpassed, started his first coaching position at Enid High by helping as line coach of the sophomore football squad. He then took the reins of the "B" basketball team to an impressive record with only one junior on the sophomore dominated squad.

The Bees made a record of five straight wins of their season's openers, starting on the trail to victory.

The swath was cut when the Ponca City Wildcats defeated them 37-35 in their return match.

Competition began to get rougher from that point on, with the Newsom proteges fighting every inch of the way.

Defeated in two games with Shawnee and Blackwell by only one point, coupled with Ponca City's two point margin, quenched three more games from the Bees' winning column, with the season's total coming to an 11-9 record.

The fourteen men had twenty games in which they received experience which would be the difference in next year's "A" squad, with only two lettermen returning.

The team also participated in many dual and triangular meets both at home and away.

GOLF

The Enid High School golf team had a successful golf season this year by defeating Ponca City, El Reno, and Arkansas City on different dates. Dick Lambertz paced the Enid linksters through the season followed by Kenneth Murray, Tim Crowley, and John Hatfield. Tommy Lansden and Donnie Miller also saw action on the squad.

Dick Lambertz had the lowest score of the season when he fired an even par 71 at Oakwood Country Club in a match with El Reno and Ponca City. The team highlighted their season by winning the mid-state conference golf tourney and by finishing high in the state high school tournament. The Plainsmen won state in 1956 and were third in 1957. This is the third year in a row that the team has won the mid-state conference.

SWIMMING

The Enid High Swimming team captured the Mid-State Conference swimming crown for the second year straight by defeating NW. Classen, Capitol Hill and Douglass, all of Oklahoma City. Enid scored 92 points, NW. Classen 76, Capitol Hill 67 and Douglass six in the final round of competition.

During the season, the Big Blue defeated NW. Classen twice, 43-42 and 51-34; Capitol Hill twice, 54-28 and 62-24; and Douglass once, 70-9. Norman, the only out-of-conference team they swam, defeated them 49-37, handing them their only defeat of the season. Don Conner and Larry Landrith were co-captains of the team.

BAND

The 'Pride of E.H.S.' marched through another year, bringing honor and prestige to Enid High and to their new director, Eugene Griffin.

Kicking off with the first football game with Midwest City, the 'Big Blue' performed at every home game, presenting the pre-game ceremonies and half time entertainment. The band traveled to one out of town game at Northwest Classen, and although it was Halloween night, no tricks were played on the band.

The band gave their support to the State Finalists as they played for every basketball game presenting the colors preceding the games.

Following the marching season, the band was divided into two parts, the Symphonic band and the Concert band. The Symphonic band journeyed to Alva, March 25-26, for the district contest, to decide who would compete at the annual state contest at the University of Oklahoma, in Norman.

Many of the students participated in clinics and competition in December when they attended a band clinic at Stillwater. In January band members went to the clinic at Phillips University and then went to Norman for the All-State Band. Several solos and ensembles were presented at the District at Alva.

Highlight of the year for the band was their presentation of the annual "Symphony, Song, and Swing." This show provided just that as the first part consisted of concert numbers. The dance band was featured in the swing

MIXED CHORUS

With the beginning of school, the members of the Mixed Chorus, under the direction of Miss Maurine Morrow, began singing Thanksgiving songs and preparing for their annual trip to Stillwater, Oklahoma, where they spent one glorious day on the Oklahoma State University campus for the annual Thanksgiving Music Festival, directed by Roger Wagner.

"My Eternal King," "Come Thou Now," "Alleluia," "Now is Born," and many other songs were presented by the 4,500 students from all over Oklahoma, along with George Handel's "Halleluiah Chorus," from the Messiah.

After Thanksgiving, the feeling of Christmas moved in fast as the chorus learned songs for the Annual Christmas Vesper program held December 15 in the Convention Hall.

Susie Hockmeyer, soprano soloist, sang "Oh Holy Night" with Mixed Chorus background, along with other Christmas anthems presented by the group, closing with the "Halleluiah Chorus".

With the coming of March, the chorus was rushed with five performances outside school. They appeared at Enid civic clubs, the Tri-State Music Festival, Vance Air Force Base, and the state School Board Convention.

April 29, brought the chorus before a large audience in the Enid High School Auditorium at the annual "Time To Sing" program.

The highlight of the program was the crowning of Bonnie Miller, Chorus Queen by Bill Born, the King.

RADIO

Up in the morning at 5:00 and off to radio station KGWA. On February 26, Radio Day was pronounced. New voices were heard by listeners when the twenty-seven students enrolled in the radio class at EHS came on the air at 6:00 a.m. and controlled the mike for the day. They gave all the commercials, news, and weather, and M.C.'ed the programs until sign off time at midnight.

When school started in September, the first thing the students discovered was a new class room. It had everything a radio class could want, even a stage. In this room, the students, under the direction of Mrs. Una Lee Voigt, learned to speak over a microphone without getting stage fright, and to sell themselves to the public.

By the end of the year, they and their sponsor had competed in three different contests, in which one-act radio plays were featured.

During the second semester, the group presented a 10 minute news cast every Tuesday and Thursday at school. This consisted of the latest news, the weather, and personal interviews with interesting personalities around Enid High School.

"THE FAMILY NOBODY WANTED"

The entire cast gathers on the stage in a final scene from the senior play, "The Family Nobody Wanted." This was based on the life of Rev. and Mrs. Carl Doss and their seven adopted children. Bruce Snethen, Carol Baker, Stefani Gurwell and Bob Spickelmier had the leading parts. Cast members are: Barbara Bernstein, Ann Scaling, Sharon Kincannon, Stefani Gurwell, Bob Spickelmier, Edd Hume, Margaret Hart, Norma Callas, Steve Cool, Gary Smith, Allen Gasaway, Charloa Wyman, Carol Baker, Bruce Snethen, Kay Creed, Janice Rippy and David Poynor.

"THE BIRDS AND THE BOYS"

"The Birds and the Boys" was the choice of the juniors for their play. It was a situation comedy dealing with a newly-married wife who advanced with buoyant heart to meet juvenile delinquents from Youthville. Karen Bushner, Larry Reams, and Gary Brooks depicted the leading characters. Members of the cast are (standing): Betty Pond, Bob Hill, Elizabeth Sykora, Larry Siria, Bill Beaty, Phillip Bryan, Linda King, Pat Monroe, Susie Rogers, Larry Reams, Roberta Nelson. Those seated are: Jane Pyle, Gailene Clark, Karen Bushner, Mary Ellen Peckham, and Gary Brooks.

The people behind the scenes are the ones who make a play run smoothly. Those who fulfill this task during the junior play are Joe Brisben, Gayle Lamb, Joan Stewart, Ann Stuerman, Nancy Shannon, Jay Reynolds, and Paul Asfahl.

DRAMA

The drama department, headed by Mrs. Delyte Poindexter, produced three plays during the year 1957-58. The senior play, "The Family Nobody Wanted", the junior play, "The Birds and the Boys", and the Thespian play, "Daddy Long Legs", were all great successes. Mrs. Poindexter directed all three plays.

"The Family Nobody Wanted" dealt with the seven adopted children of Rev. and Mrs. Carl Doss, who were all of different races. Donny, the oldest son, was forced to choose between his brothers and sisters and the girl he loved.

"The Birds and the Boys" showed how one person, Cricket Martin, a rather erratic and scatterbrained newlywed, changed the opinion of a whole town about a youth ranch near their town.

"Daddy Long Legs" told the story of an orphan, Judy, who knew her benefactor only by the name of Daddy Long Legs, of the letters she wrote him, and their eventual marriage.

CAREER DAY

The Annual Career Day conference sponsored by the Altrusa Club was held February 4, for Seniors. The Seniors attended the careers and professions in which they were most interested and about which they wanted to learn.

Panels on each career or profession were chosen. Interested Seniors discussed each subject with businessmen and representatives and questioned the panels.

Speakers at the annual Altrusa Club Career Day bring to Enid High a comprehensive glimpse of the business, professional, and trade world. By providing informal question-answer periods, these citizens give the students an insight into opportunities in the business world.

Crowds thronged in the halls of EHS as people went from one part of the building to another. Lynda Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Klein are in the foreground.

Enid High threw open her doors to all that wished to enter during the annual Open House November 12. Parents, alumni, friends, the curious—all were welcomed and invited to look around. Teachers were busy talking to parents, explaining school policies, equipment and discussing their children with the parents.

Many of the guests reminisced and met old school-time friends; others looked through the class pictures in the halls. Different displays through the building were observed by parents.

To show off the school and to improve teacher-student-parent relations were the purposes of Open House.

OPEN HOUSE

Carol Baker and Donna Reeser were official greeters at the registration table in front of the library. Among those guests standing around the table are Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hayes, Linda Hayes, Deloris Rouse, Mr. and Mrs. Rouse, Mr. John Brisben, Joe Brisben, Mrs. John Brisben, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Coldiron, Mrs. C. V. Boedeker, John Boedeker, Mr. C. V. Boedeker, Mr. Selby, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Unruh and others.

Mr. Michael talks to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Adams and their daughter Sharon Adams.

Class pictures of former years were favored attractions in the halls for parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Selby visit with Morla Rainey and Deanna Reeser.

One of the many registration places was in the northwest corner of the second floor. Judy Cromwell, Mrs. Lorine Webber, Miss Ruth Scott, Mike Webber, Linda Winkler Morris and Judie Collier are shown.

John Cromwell, Marguerite Wright and Dan Edwards look over the letter they received informing them of their acceptance as semifinalists in scholarship competition.

Sharon Kincannon, nominated by Penney's for an honorary editorship of McCall's Magazine, has a fitting adjusted by Miss Ellen Correll, clothing instructor.

ACHIEVEMENT

Loyal service, special talents, outstanding feats of skill and good scholarship are all represented here. These people represent a group of those students that served above and beyond the call of duty and accomplished out-of-the-ordinary feats.

Dave Friesen was selected as a finalist in National Merit Scholarship Competition; a national magazine recognized Sharon Kincannon's talent; the basketball team came within one point of winning state again. This was the heart and the blue blood of Enid High in 1958.

To balance the scales of justice among the teenage drivers of the city falls to the Youth Traffic Court. Shown are Luther Elliott, Jr., Ray Carter, Ed Hume, Bob Hill, Bill Green, Charles Gates, Don Hardgrave,

Mr. Robert Gregory, sponsor, and Clyde Hopkins, sponsor. Those seated are Paul Asfahl and Blaine Smith.

"Memories are made of this," is a familiar yet very true statement when it comes to expressing the way the students felt about the many assemblies held during the year of 1957-58.

The first assembly of the year was the first of the many pep assemblies to be given to the EHS students. Not only did the pep assembly start off the football season but the second Homecoming assembly was held as a high point for the week.

Throughout the year assemblies were given to represent or to kick off a special holiday or a certain event. The presentation of the athletic letters were presented on the assemblies as well as the Royalty of Enid High.

Traditional Li'l Abner was presented on the Sadie Hawkins assembly and the All-School talent assembly showed off the talent of EHS.

Other assemblies of the year included the Teachers' assembly, the Aquaette assembly and the Radio Class assembly. Also assemblies were held by the different organizations expressing the work and purposes of these groups.

One of the top assemblies of the year was the assembly given in honor of Coach Jim Stroup who led the Enid Plainsmen to Semi-Finalists of the State tournament. This assembly was given in the form of "This Is Your Life, Jim Stroup."

Talent, entertainment and education were three words which well expressed the assemblies held during the year for the student body who will long remember them throughout the years to come.

ASSEMBLIES

Joe Brisben depicts that famous, most wise and beloved doctor of things of the heart as he lectures on the good and evil of springtime.

OUTDOOR

Outdoors as well as indoors played a big part in the lives of Enid High students as they enjoyed the numerous activities provided for them. Along with pep assemblies and winter fun, came the all important sports which brought honor and prestige to our school with the participants' sportsmanship and the students' school spirit.

The out-of-doors provided fun, work, challenges, and fellowship, all of which were taken in the stride of the student body.

IFE

Highlight of the year for the girls and an extra treat for the boys was the annual Sadie Hawkins week which was held February 24-29. This was a complete turnabout from the usual proceedings at Enid High with the girls paying the checks and buying the gas as they did their level best to snag a man in a week of coke parties, lunch dates, assembly to crown 'Lil Abner, the shyest boy in school, and the climax of the week, the big dance held Saturday night.

SADIE HAWKINS WEEK

Jim Harmon, Dave Poynor, Pat Monroe, Ray Carter, Phil Bryan, Dan Thomas and Bruce Snethen serenade those of the fair sex. They are accompanied by Charles Gates and David Hamilton.

Carol Baker hangs on tight, as all victorious women must do when they catch their men, to Wayne Durham just after crowning him Li'l Abner.

LIFE AT

Life at Enid High was more than just an accumulation of facts and figures. The basis for many a firm friendship was found in the halls and in the cafeteria before and after school and between periods as well. Conversation prevailed and important things as well as unimportant things were discussed. Here, in the halls and cafeteria, the student learned to get along with other people.

Before school crowds in the cafeteria are not uncommon as students do the homework they should have done the night before, or more often just visit with each other.

NID HIGH

Everything of interest from examination of class rings to discussion of the day's lessons punctuated with cokes and wise cracks enlivens the cafeteria every morning before the 8:15 bell.

System rules the business world; but system can become "Red Tape." In our Studio we use system; we have a certain method of handling business that has appealed to us as the best. Our system is, simply, the system of "SQUARE DEAL." We want our customers to feel that they are getting what they pay for; that their pictures are made of the best materials and workmanship.

To Avoid "Red Tape"—We endeavor to handle each customer as a separate and distinct "Study," not simply as a person who wants a picture. That's the reason why "McConkay pictures are different."
